Poor Box money is used to assist people in temporary need who approach our Parish for financial assistance with clothing, food, utilities, rent, prescriptions, etc. Indirect assistance is also provided through funds given to several local charities, including the Corpus Christi Food Pantry and the Nashua Soup Kitchen. Donations are never used for parish expenses. Your continuing contributions allow our Parish to fulfill the Lord's command to help "the least of my brothers and sisters."

Our St. Vincent de Paul members conduct confidential personal visits to provide spiritual and financial support as necessary. If you know of persons, either in or outside the Parish, who might benefit from our assistance, please encourage them to call our dedicated phone line at 821-5267.

Thank you!

Pope Francis and "Irregular" Marriages

Pope Francis, in his long-awaited document called "The Joy of Love," frequently uses the term "irregular marriage." The "irregularity" refers to the absence of something necessary to bring about the Sacrament of Matrimony between a man and a woman. The two most common causes of "irregularity" are: first, contracting a civil marriage without the proper involvement of the Church; and second, the existence of a prior marital bond -- civil or religious -- on the part of one or both parties.

The first cause of "irregularity" can be dealt with quite easily. It simply requires the renewal of one's marriage vows in the presence of a priest or deacon and two witnesses. After this happens, the marriage becomes "regular," which simply means "according to the rules." The two people now have received the Sacrament of Matrimony.

The second cause of "irregularity" -- the existence of a previous marriage -- is much more complex. This brings us into the realm of annulments. If the previous marriage had been contracted only civilly, a person needs to do three simple things: first, prove that he or she is a baptized Catholic; second, present the marriage certificate and divorce decree; and third, swear that the marriage had never been blessed -- convalidated -- by a priest or deacon. In our Diocese, these "documentary cases" take only a few weeks to complete.

However, if the previous marriage had been "regular" to begin with, then the process becomes much more complicated. In these cases one must prove that some sort of impediment existed prior to the wedding and made it impossible for one or both spouses to receive the Sacrament of Matrimony. Depending on circumstances, this can take a very long time. Moreover, some cases, which would probably receive a decree of nullity, never get completed because documents or witnesses may be missing. This happens more frequently in poor countries, which lack good records and ease of communication. As a result, many Catholics become trapped in "irregular" marriages until the previous spouse -- or current spouse -- dies.

Contrary to media reports, Pope Francis has not changed anything about the Church's understanding of divorce and remarriage. After all, Church teaching, which flows directly from the Lord, is indisputable and clear: every sacramental marriage is permanent and impossible to dissolve. (And please remember: Annulments do not dissolve marriages; rather they declare that a particular marriage was not sacramental, and hence not permanent.)

Though the Holy Father has not changed anything, he has reminded us that not all "irregular" marriages are the same. Some have children, others don't. Some have spouses who have remained faithful for many years, others are marked by promiscuity or other disorders. Some have standard conjugal relations, others are "celibate." Some consist of young people whose lives are unsettled; others involve old people who may be severely incapacitated. Some can be easily "regularized," others cannot. The variety of situations is enormous.

Pope Francis has made another very important point: Conformity to the law is no guarantee of virtuous living. Indeed, grave sins, such as spousal abuse and multiple offenses against life, exist within many "regular" marriages. These sins are often hidden, whereas the "irregular" nature of some marriages has a "public quality" because the situation can be documented. The Holy Father, who has described the Church as a "field hospital" on a battlefield, wants us to recognize that we're all among the wounded. And perhaps some wounds are more grievous than "irregularity."

Fr. Michael Kerper
