Christ the King

The Solemnity of Christ the King began in 1925, just 81 years ago. Pope Pius XI created the fest to reassert the Church's influence in the world, especially in Europe. He did this because the Church's political power had shrunk enormously. Throughout Europe, especially in France and Italy, communist and socialist parties had enormous influence among the industrial workers, most of them Catholics. Sad to say, many regarded the Church as a tool of the rich. Hence they abandoned the Church.

In response to these dangerous trends the Holy Father insisted that Christ – not the state, not any political movements – was the only true King. Along with the Holy Father's assertion of Christ's Kingship came the proposition that the Church is the only true Kingdom. Hence, the Church should be the dominant power in society.

For sure, this vision of the Church as a worldly power is long gone. While trappings of royalty still linger here and there, the Church now seems like a small band of bedraggled people with struggling and wounded leaders. What happened to Christ the King in splendor? Where's the glorious King? Is He a King at all?

Yes, Jesus is indeed the King. But His Kingship is not about power for Himself. Rather He exerts His royal power only and always on behalf of others. His Kingship is about service, compassion, and love. The readings linked to this feast make this point clearly.

In the reading from Ezekiel God speaks through the prophet saying: I myself will look after and tend my sheep." In the Hebrew mind kingship and shepherding went together. Remember that David, the greatest of the kings and the prototype of Christ, was also a shepherd. God says, "I am your shepherd. I will care for you. I will rescue you and protect you." God says this because the human shepherds – the political/warrior kings of Israel and Judah – had failed terribly. Christ, the new King/Shepherd, would replace the old kings and act in a completely different way. He would finally reverse the very meaning of Kingship, emphasizing service instead of power.

The gospel used on Christ the King is St. Matthew's account of the final judgment. The King gathers together the whole population of the world and divides humanity into two distinct parts – the saved (the sheep) and the unsaved (the goats). The "sheep" had come to resemble the "shepherd/king" precisely by doing what He had done: feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, visiting prisoners, and caring for the sick.

Service to others – not power – is the distinguishing feature of Christ's Kingship. As such, each of us – though "commoners" – has the amazing possibility of sharing in His Kingship.
